

The Story Behind Bello

Bello was founded in 2019, in Montreal, with the desire to make healthy beverages more sustainable and accessible to everyone. We were tired of constantly having to choose between our health and the environment. Tap water isn't attractive, and often contaminated, while bottled drinks are an ecological disaster.

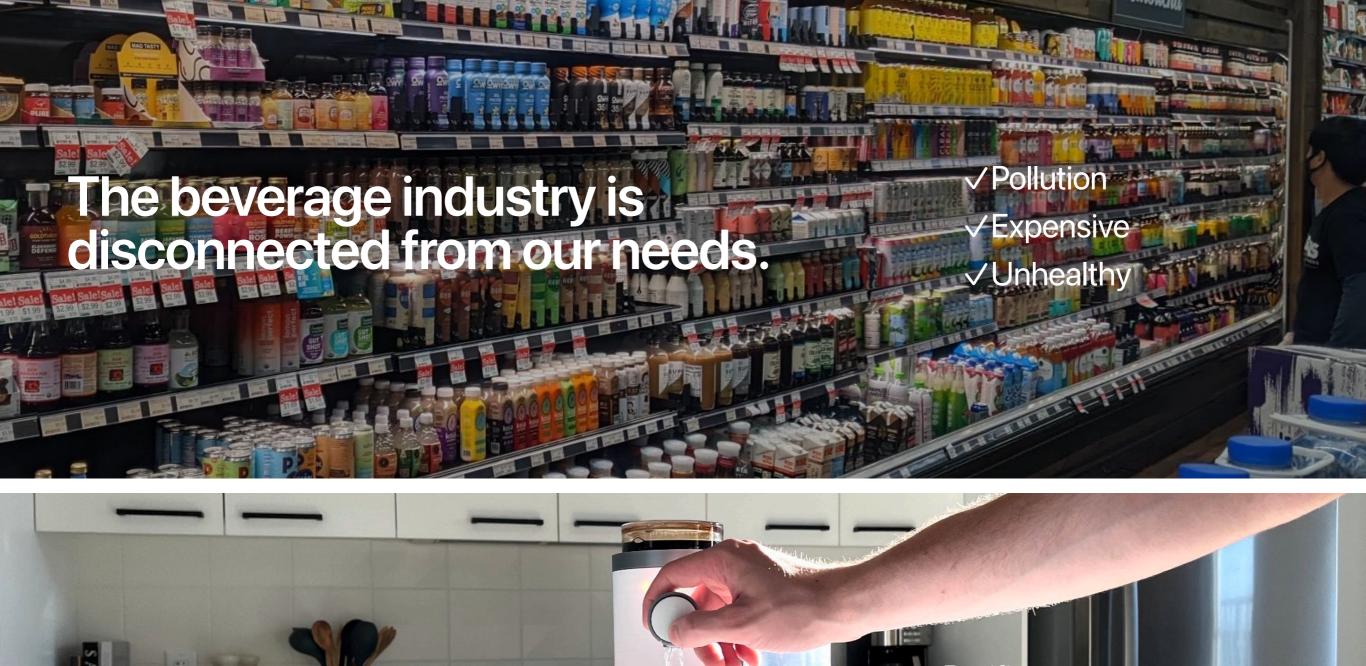

Marc SCHAAL and Clement BOULAND, the co-founders of Bello have spent several years re-thinking the beverage industry. Frustrated by not drinking enough water, having no pleasure while drinking tap water; the cofounders sought to develop an eco-friendly and simple-to-use machine to create premium water. They were willing to produce personalized water at the point of use, in order to enable the consumers to turn their tap water into delicious and personalized beverages.

To make it possible, they needed to rethink the standard model of the beverage industry. After two years of development they've created the Bello Home: a sleek water dispenser allowing to purify and infuse your tap water at home or work. Indeed, a line of capsules allow the user to add a few drops of natural concentrate in your drink. Each capsules can be used multiple times and are directly delivered at your house. With Bello Home, you are able to create your own water!

Marc Schaal (down right) and Clement Bouland (top left) met a few years ago when they both immigrated from France to Canada. Marc grew up in a winegrower family in France; eager to create the most refined and natural wines.

Whereas Clement is fascinated about innovation and new technologies; he is keen into challenges as well.

The Product: Bello Home

Filtration

An Activated Carbon Filter removes bad tastes and over 66 contaminants from tap water

Flavoring

Infuses water with natural flavors, real juices and minerals

Bello Home creates personalized water at home. Bello combines advanced water purification and precise infusion using pods of concentrate, in order to offer an outstanding and tasteful experience to the user.

Bello offers premium and better-for-you beverages. We seek to have real juices, essential minerals, or plant extracts in our formulas. Moreover, one single capsule makes up to 5 liters of infused water. We help our customers decrease their plastic bottles' consumption drastically while having the pleasure to drink your favorite beverages. We are offering a large range of beverages for the whole day. We aim at developing more flavors after our launch, which are perfect for aperitif with friends, after a sport session, etc.

Bello is building an entirely new way to sell, distribute and experience beverages at home.
